About:

AniCura Kalmarsund is located on the beautiful Southeast coast of Sweden and consists of Läckeby Veterinary Hospital, Kalmar City Clinic and four smaller local clinics in the region accounting for 135 employees who are passionate about animal healthcare and its development. The veterinary hospital of Läckeby is set in beautiful countryside, only 10 minutes' drive from the coastal town of Kalmar, the City Clinic of Kalmar is a large and totally refurbished veterinary clinic, only 10 minutes' walk from the town center. In AniCura Kalmarsund, a wide range of specialist care as well as emergency services and referrals is offered, with around 35000 yearly visits, it is the region's largest referral center and emergency provider. Over the last two years we have been expanding our diagnostics services to include a CT scanner and an MRI. The organization is also fully equipped with digital radiography and ultrasound scanners.

AniCura Animal Hospital in Kumla, a small town only 10 minutes from Sweden's 6th largest city, Örebro. The animal hospital is an emergency animal hospital and we provide high quality veterinary care for dogs, cats and other small pets. AniCura's ambition is to be the most attractive employer within veterinary care. We dedicate significant time and resources into developing our employees, as we know that high employee satisfaction is key to reaching our goals of providing a best in class medical quality and customer service. At AniCura Animal Hospital in Kumla you will find a lot of modern technique that makes it possible for us to do advanced operations in many areas. We are open for emergency patients from 8 am to 10 pm and our long-term goal is to be able to open our emergency all night again. We are looking to hire full time veterinary surgeons who want to come join our team in Kumla.

We are now looking for both Vets to join Anicura team in Läckeby, in Kalmar, in Kumla

Vacancies:

- VETERINARY SURGEON with focus on emergency care
- VETERINARY SURGEON with focus on internal medicine

We are looking for you, devoted team players who thrive in a collaborative environment and are motivated by continuous development of veterinary medicine. You are educated and licensed within your profession as a Vet and have a few years' experience within the role (possibly). You will be working with experienced and skilled colleagues who will take great care of you, introducing you to our organization and routines.

Our introduction program stretches over six months and includes both clinical introduction, such as shadowing a colleague and having an allocated mentor, to partaking in more general introduction through our introduction days with other new employees.

As an employee of AniCura you will have a competitive salary package as well as benefits such as healthcare bonus, pension scheme, generous personal pet care discounts and more.

These positions are permanent and full time. However, part time work can also be an option if requested.

Anicura assists you with a relocation package including Swedish language courses and temporary accommodation whilst moving to your new country.

To apply for the above positions please send your CV and covering letter (English only) quoting: "Vet to Sweden" to:
